

Private School & College Prep

Parents hear continually on the news that Hawaii Schools are not “making the grade” in comparison to mainland schools. Now, due to budget concerns, the state government continues to cut services and classroom time for Hawaii’s students. While this may work in the short term to solve financial problems, the children of Hawaii are even more at a disadvantage when compared to their mainland peers. Many parents are utilizing Education Therapy to help their child to prepare for private school entrance exams or to prepare for college.
